

17 NARBERTH MEN
LEAVE FOR SERVICE

Letters Express Boys' Appreciation Of Parting Gifts

On Monday, of this week, an additional corps of 17 young men left Narberth, for New Cumberland, Pa., to join the Armed Forces. They were: Robert W. Buescher, Henry R. MacEvoy, Ferdinand J. Nebelhorn, Morris B. Watson, Robert J. Phillips, John J. Owyer, James P. Brannen, Frank J. Tiburzio, Gerald F. Cochran, Greer C. Helndel, Paul J. Wehman, Donald L. Miner, Robert D. Miller, Eugene P. Wallace, Robert D. Tabor, Jr., Carl R. Wells and Bernard D. Cantagalli, Jr.

In accordance with the local custom, each of the new recruits was visited on the eve of departure by members of the American Legion Auxiliary who presented them with a hand-package of various gifts specially devised for camp use.

In addition each man was given a special greeting in the name of the community at large, individually written, on parchment paper, and intended as a permanent memento of the day of induction. A subscription to "Our Town" was also part of the formal au revoir.

For family use, in order that correspondence with the absent men might become a routine thing, a well-equipped writing kit was also presented to each of the respective households.

The reaction of the young men to the general leave-taking procedure may be glimpsed from some of the letters which have been received in acknowledgment of the gifts, as follows:

"Thank you, sincerely, for the wonderful gift package containing so many useful articles. It gives me great satisfaction to know that my community is so 100 per cent behind me.

Robert J. Phillips."

"When I opened your splendid gift package, I was overwhelmed. I want to tell you how much I appreciate the generosity and thoughtfulness of the citizens of Narberth. Thanks an awful lot.

Carl Robert Fells."

Certificates for Food For Soldiers on Furlough Available

The Lower Merion Township Council of Defense has announced that special certificates for obtaining rationed foods for servicemen are now available.

Any service man who will be on leave for 72 hours or longer, who will eat at least one meal for that period at a place where rationed foods are acquired by stamps may get an application form.

This form, signed by the service man and his officer before he leaves camp, is to be turned over to the person who will provide his meals. That person, in turn, submits it to the local War Price Rationing Board in return for food certificates, any time within 15 days after the service man's furlough.

The certificates are issued on a nine-meal basis as follows: Eight points for processed foods; one-quarter pound of coffee; eight points for meats and fats, and one-quarter pound of sugar.

Junior Red Cross Works On Packages For War Prisoners

From a quota of 4000 boxes daily, produced on a morning shift, the goal has been stepped up to 8000 by the addition of an afternoon shift. This goal has already been exceeded as the Center has been averaging between 9000 and 9200, daily, for the last month.

Approximately 685,000 boxes have been packed since the Center opened in February and six neutral ships have cleared United States ports for Marseilles where the shipment is routed to the International Red Cross at Geneva, distributors of the packages to the prison camps.

Seventy to eighty women are now working daily on two shifts: 10 A. M. to 12.30 P. M., and 1.30 P. M. to 3.30 P. M.

Two similar Centers are now operating in New York City and Chicago.

Fuel Oil Ration Form To Be Sent Out

Residents who will need fuel oil in the winter are urged by the Office Council of Lower Merion Township to attend promptly to the mailing of the new forms, properly filled out, which they will soon receive for the renewal of their rations.

It is expected that automatic upward adjustment in fuel oil rations for some small homes under 800 square feet will be made next fall by OPA. The amount of any increase will be determined by a revised table to be furnished the boards by OPA, and it will not be necessary for householders in this category to file special applications with their ration boards.

The marriage of Miss Mary Ellen Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Blocker, of "Blocker Hall," West Chester, to Mr. John Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk seersucker. It was made with a fitted bodice, heart-shaped neckline and full skirt which ended in a train. Her tulle veil was held by a Juliet cap of seersucker arranged with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. N. Harlan Slack was matron of honor and Miss Nancy D. Herman was maid of honor. Their dresses were of flesh-colored marquisette with fish necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Bridesmaids of blue had their short flesh-colored veils and their bouquets were of blue and small pink roses.

Narberth Keeps First Place Defeating Manoa 4-3

Narberth has undisputed possession of first place and needs only one more victory for a clean sweep of its first round games, but no one is conceding the borough tossers a runaway in the Main Line Baseball League.

Least of all Manoa's defending champions who dropped a 4-3 decision to the Davismen last Sunday.

"I'm sure we'll make the playoffs, and with two more cracks at Narberth, we still have an excellent chance of finishing in first place," said Wemett, determinedly, "now that our field problem has been settled we should soon regain lost ground."

Unable to renew its lease on Bergdoll Field, Manoa has made arrangements to use the Police Field at the rear of Veteran's Park, Darby Rd. and Manoa Rd. This is a regulation diamond in good condition with the only shortcoming being a short left field about the same distance of that at Narberth.

Narberth has been experimenting with games at various times of the day to determine which are most agreeable for players and fans. Last Saturday the borough nine

Baby Show, Table Planning Among Features for July 5

Advance entries leave little doubt that Narberth's observance of the nation's birthday, to be held on the playground on July 5, 1943, will be an affair of substantial dimensions, as each contest is receiving its full share of community co-operation.

The first part of the Baby Show will include the tots between one and four, and prizes will be awarded to the "Fattest," the "Curliest Haired," the "Healthiest Looking," and the "Best Natured."

The second part will comprise boys and girls from five to ten, with stress laid on costumes: "Most original," "prettiest," "most patriotic," and "funniest." In addition a special prize will be given to the lad or lass who has been blessed with the greatest supply of freckles.

Unique exhibit will be that of "tableplanning" when local housewives will demonstrate their flair and fitness in setting forth their linens and silver in a manner which will make the diners forget the tribulations of rationed food.

The animal show is apt to approach menagerie proportions if all for the occasion make their appearance, and the committee stresses the fact that pedigree and points will not be nearly as important as the ease with the usual professional shows.

"Hobbies" are intertwined this year with "Curios and Oddities," and those in charge are anxious that this department shall attract an entry from each local household.

"Antiques" will concentrate chiefly on china, linen, glassware, any small wares that have distinction of some kind or other, beauty, age, interesting origin, heirlooms, etc., etc. Furniture or other large pieces cannot be accommodated in the limited space which is available for the display of "Antiques."

Under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, photographs of all the Narberth men and women in the Armed Forces are being assembled for the Patriotic Gallery which will be a feature of the observance. Those relatives who have not as yet responded to the call are urged to do so without further delay.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS HAVE MEETING

The annual meeting of the Main Line School for Christian Workers was held last Tuesday evening at the Ardmore Methodist Church, at which time a resume of the activities for the past winter was presented, and plans outlined for the coming sessions. Theatre Organ Plays Again After 12 Years

Patrons of the Egyptian Theatre were treated to a surprise last week when, after a lapse of twelve years, they heard a brief program of popular melodies played on the mammoth organ.

Originally purchased at a price in excess of $50,000, the instrument has been kept in constant repair over the years during which it was not publicly used.

Due to requests of older residents of this community, Mrs. Gertrude Morrison has been engaged to play the organ. It is the intention of the theatre management to present these brief concerts in addition to the film program each Friday and Saturday.

Telephone, Narberth 2372. Time is short and immediate action is desirable.

The Board of Health of Lower Merion Township has issued a warning to owners of dogs, that unless owners control their pets properly, the Police Department will strictly enforce all rules and regulations pertaining to dogs, and impose adequate penalties for violations.

The warning, signed by William P. Landis, President of the Board of Health, cites twenty-one cases of rabies in dogs reported during recent months in neighboring communities, and notes that five persons in the Township have been bitten by dogs recently.

"The danger of rabies in dogs is great at this time. The result of hydrophobia in human beings is death.

TOWNSHIP GAS RATIONING

June 11, 1943

To the Editor:

Are the Township authorities saving as much rubber and gas as the citizens are justified in expecting? I see the "dog limousine" all over town while I am making my Parish calls. What is the justification for sending that car out at all unless dog trouble of some kind is reported to the Police Department? The very fact that we have to pay $3.00 for the privilege of having our dog ride in that car in these quiet dog days satisfies us that there is one unnecessary waste of gas and rubber.

Would it be asking too much of the Township authorities to have the cost of the gas consumption of the Township broken down into the demands of the different departments? Might we have the names of the members of the Board of Commissioners who use Township gas and to which department that consumption is charged?

Gibson Bell.

The Rev. Gibson Bell, Rector,
All Saints Episcopal Church,
Wynnewood, Pa.

Dear Mr. Bell:

There is wartime logic in your letter.

Unless it is justified by some specific reason I see no excuse for continuing our peace time rounds of the dog catcher's wagon. Certainly, all municipal services that involve excessive use of manpower, motor fuel and tires should be curtailed in keeping with the curtailments expected in other departments of life.

The use of publicly owned automobiles by township authorities for personal purposes is certainly another matter that will bear scrutiny. From time to time we have had reports that high police officials have not always confined the use of township automobiles to official business. There was also a report some months back that one of the taxpayer's automobiles was used on a hunting trip. Unfortunately, this kind of case is hard to track down and the official involved usually shows up with phony but indisputable evidence that "official business" was transacted on the pleasure trip. I suggest you refer this matter to the detective bureau for investigation or, better still, take it direct to the commissioners.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

VICTORY

The American people do a lot better job of coping with bad news than with good news. During the war, when news has been bad, most of us have been perfectly willing to make any sacrifices we are called upon to make—and we actually feel better about it when we give up a lot of things which usually are important to us. The more we do the more it helps to relieve us of any feeling of personal guilt over reverses on the fighting fronts.

But when good news comes along the kind of news we have had for the last few months—most of us are over eager to get rid of sacrifices and nuisances and resume normal living. It seems to be our natural reaction to relax immediately to cut down on the war work we are doing, be less concerned about black markets, let our scrap collecting slide, step on the gas and let the other fellow handle details of "moping up."

In spite of the fact that the biggest and most bloody part of the war is yet to come, many people are actually taking the attitude that we have reached the "mopping up" stage. Recruiting has fallen off, blood bank donations are decreasing, and local defense councils are reporting a cooling off of volunteer work.

Actually, good news, until this war ends, is apt to demand more civilian sacrifices than does bad news.

Good news will mean that we have greater numbers of planes in Europe, Africa and the Pacific—planes which require increased amounts of the gasoline which might otherwise go to civilians.

Good news will mean that we are freeing countries where the people have long been starving under Hitler's rule and to whom we will want to send enormous quantities of food from our shrinking larder.

Good news will mean that we have bigger armies than ever in the field which must be supplied with larger amounts of war equipment and food.

And good news will mean that the enemy will become increasingly desperate and may resort to the long-threatened bombing of American towns and cities in an effort to bolster morale in their tottering countries.

Thus good news calls for harder work, greater sacrifice and increased alertness on our part if we will get the best news of all—the news of the unconditional surrender of the enemy.

Fortunately, in this country, if the people are given a clear picture of the facts the majority can be counted upon to do their part.

Those who are trying to throw off the bonds of war before the war is won are doing so because they don't fully understand the vital need for increased effort or because they belong to that small, selfish minority which, since the war began, has put its own interests ahead of the interests of the country.

Before this war is over we will undoubtedly have to do a lot more sacrificing than we have done so far. Food will become scarcer, gasoline will be curbed more, luxury services to which we are accustomed will be abandoned, large additional numbers of men will be drafted into the army, working hours will be increased, and the manufacture of civilian supplies will be cut to rock bottom.

That day of new automobiles, private planes, improved refrigerators and washing machines, miracle homes, and stores bulging with good things to eat may be coming over the horizon, but we have to travel the roughest road we have traversed so far before we reach it. So long as millions of our boys must continue to fight, those of us at home should permit no let-up in our war activities.

Keep Cool in an Emergency

Editor's Note—This is the sixth in a series of ten articles on Home Nursing prepared by the Public Information Service of the American Red Cross. For complete details about the standard course, inquire of your local Red Cross chapter.

Try to keep a few of the most simple and often needed rules and remedies in mind—then you can "keep cool" in an emergency. You may save a life by knowing:

Burns are of three degrees: First, where the skin is reddened and tender; second, when skin blisters; third, where tissues are destroyed and skin partly gone. The more extensive a burn, even though not deep, the more serious it may be. For third and second degree and extensive first degree burns, use no oil. Fill a basin with lukewarm water and soda (two or three tablespoons to every quart). Soak a soft, freshly-laundered white cloth in the solution, twist ends to remove excess water and apply to the burn, then bandage loosely. For deep or extensive burns, a doctor's advice should be sought.

Poisons: "Flush, drain and refill." When you suspect that someone has eaten poison, do everything you can to make him vomit while waiting for the doctor. Give four to seven glasses of warm or salt water (one teaspoon to a pint) or soapuds.

Severe abdominal pain may come from a number of causes. Play safe by doing what would be right if it were a case of appendicitis. Give no food, laxative, or enema. Do not apply heat. If pain is accompanied by nausea, vomiting, fever or abdominal tenderness, get in touch with a doctor at once.

Animal bites: All animal bites should be reported to a doctor at once; keep dog confined so it can be under observation. If the animal should be rabid, anti-rabies treatment should be given as soon as possible. In the meantime, you can give emergency care by washing the wound with running water and drying it with a clean cloth. Then apply two per cent iodine

Our Freedom Is Priceless

By JOSEPH E. DAVIES
Former Ambassador to Russia and Belgium.

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "BUY U.S. WAR BONDS" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented vise which takes from him or her either freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to "say yes" and fill those war stamp albums. It is our duty and privilege to help the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau, in his magnificent effort to do the tremendous job of getting the money to keep our boys supplied with the weapons with which to fight our fight.

Surely that is little enough for us to do on the home front.

U. S. Treasury Department
"But what I wanted to say was," Bessie raved her voice and the boss looked around. "I wanted to say, would a dollar a week be too little?" You see, after we get the living expenses paid, there's just about a dollar a week left. Would they be willing to accept a dollar a week?"

"They'd be more than willing," the boss said quietly. "They'd be proud."

Bessie looked relieved. "All we have to do is scribble a little," she said. "I'd feel just terrible if we couldn't give something." Back in the boss' office a representative of the Treasury Department was waiting. The boss shut the door and sat down.

"I've just seen the greatest single sacrifice I know of," the boss said. "Listen, if you want to hear what American women are made of..." (Story from an actual report in the files of the Treasury Department.)

Patience Lady Please

We are doing everything possible to give maximum service.

Much work is being done for Army and Navy men home on short leave which requires 'right of way' handling, so if your laundry is delayed slightly you'll know that you have given a service man the benefit of our laundry service. By holding your laundry work to a minimum you are helping to share laundry service with a greater number of people. Please do not send any more than you absolutely must.

To give you the best deliveries possible schedules are being arranged to make your call every other week, so that we may pick up your laundry when we deliver your finished work.

Shortage of help and drastic reductions in our gasoline allowance makes this necessary.

"I'm An American"

By BONNIE MURPHY

An old adage says, "It's the little things that count." The full truth of that saying was brought home to me the other night, and of all places—on the deck of a battleship.

I was fortunate enough to have been invited to dine aboard one of our new battleships now under construction at the Navy Yard. Unfortunately, the name must be withheld.

After a splendid dinner, we adjourned aft where a musical show was being presented on the fantail deck for the entertainment of the crew. The show had been under way about half an hour when suddenly across the evening air came the clear notes of the bugle playing "To the Colors."

With one accord, everyone whirled around to stand at attention while the flag was hauled down at the sundown ceremony.

It was a sight that I shall soon forget. There were ship workers in blue dungarees, their faces smeared with grease and dirt. There were officers in spotless whites. Seamen, some of them mere babies, others old timers with three and four service stripes.

There were bronzed Marines standing at attention with their rifles. Yet on the face of each and every man from one end of that deck to the other, was that same look of pride and assurance as they from the most.

A lump came into my throat and a feeling surged up within me that made me want to shout, because I knew then that there isn't a dictator in the world be he yellow or white who could down boys like these.

This little incident of Navy tradition gave me one more reason to murmur to myself "Thank God! I'm An American."

By LYTLE HULL

Do the American people believe that a post-war association of nations, dedicated to the purpose of maintaining world peace, would be able to accomplish that purpose; and do they believe that this possibility is promising enough to warrant the United States taking the risk of becoming a member?

Anyone can answer these questions, but to answer them intelligently one must have some knowledge of other peace treaties and of other associations of nations which were formed for the same purpose. And here comes the "rub"—we haven't a knowledge of those things. We haven't even a knowledge of our own history! And still a great many college and school professors believe history should not be made one of the compulsory courses. Latin to them is far more important! And as for geometry!!

The United States of America is our property. It is the most priceless possession in all the world; not only because it is a magnificent and fertile piece of real estate, but because of its traditions; and because—most of all—it gives us a freedom, an independence, a chance for a happy and contented life such as no other nation on the round globe can give. If we have as much brain matter as that with which nature endowed the ordinary variety of farm yard duck, we will watch and guard this wonderful heritage with the same jealous care which our forefathers bestowed upon it. We will see that no foreign agents with longish black hair get too far with their long-fanged philosophies in our schools, in our labor unions and in our government.

We will watch for all the little tricks through which selfish people try to get control of our lives and our freedom. We will keep in mind the fact that our children will some day run the country for our grandchildren and their grandchildren, and we will cry out at the top of our voices whenever we suspect that these children are being educated by rattlesnakes instead of by healthy American minded teachers. These things we can guard against if we will keep ourselves informed upon what goes on nationally; but we can never be of value in deciding what our nation should do in collaboration—or otherwise—with other nations, so long as we remain ignorant of how human nature reacts to certain circumstances.

So this generation of Americans will be of little help to its government in deciding the vital questions which must be answered soon and which must affect the lives of our children and grandchildren for perhaps centuries to come.

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

One day in 1923 a girl was sitting in a theater watching the movies. She said to herself, "Why, I can do better than that, myself!" Millions of people have said that, but this girl decided to prove it. She resolved actually to make a movie "short"—a two-reel picture. Foolish, wasn't it?

Her name was Vyvyan Donner. She was making a living as an artist.

Vyvyan had no money, so she knew she would have to hit on an idea that wouldn't cost much to film. The next day she did. She would show the difference in motors between 1903 and 1923. Simple.

Now she hadn't anything to do but make it! She had once met a cameraman, so she looked him up and told him her idea. He liked it and said he would help make it on a division basis. She looked around and finally found a Cadillac of the vintage of 1903—an ancient wreck that shimmied and shook when it started down the road, and emitted more noise than a shipbuilding yard.

Her next step was to borrow a brand-new Cadillac for the picture.

Her next move was to procure a "location." She found an apple orchard in a suburb of New York.

Now her actors. Of course, she couldn't pay them so she asked her friends to act. She made some old-fashioned "dusters." Bought goggles at the five-and-ten, and a couple of false mustaches. She made up her "actors" depicting the difference 20 years had made in motoring.

Three factors are responsible for her success. 1. She got an idea. 2. She acted on it. 3. She let nothing stop her.

Local Housewives Save on Butter Price

Housewives in the Lower Merion Township area, watching carefully for the "roll-back" in food prices promised by the OPA, are saving from four to six cents a pound on butter since the new prices went into effect recently.

Here are the highest prices that she can be charged, advises the Council of Defense of Lower Merion Township, for 93-score butter in Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania area within 20 miles of City Hall, Philadelphia.

Class 1 and 2—Prints, parchment wrap—1 lb. 51c lb.; Cartons, 1 lb. 51c; Cartons, 1/2 lb. 52c lb.; Without Carton, 1/2 lb. 52c lb.

Class 3 and 4 stores—Prints, parchment wrap—1 lb. 48c lb.; Cartons, 1 lb. 48c lb.; Cartons, 1/2 lb. 49c lb.; Without carton, 1/2 lb. 49c lb.

New community ceiling prices of eggs, which are now in effect, reflect the traditional seasonal increases which normally take place in egg prices during the summer months. Housewives should note that the new ceiling prices for the period of June 10, June 28, show an increase of 2 cents a dozen on Grade A, and of 1 cent a dozen on most Grade B eggs. Prices for Grade eggs remain unchanged. In all cases, eggs without carton are 2c per dozen less.

This is a family war. Put your War Bonds through the payroll savings plan on a family plan, which means figure it out yourself.

This Week IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. (NWNS)—

Last January the President told Congress that taxes for the fiscal year, beginning July 1, must be at least 16 billion more than last year. He said this was necessary to keep inflation from getting out of hand. But Congress became so involved with putting present taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis that it has done nothing about planning for higher taxes.

Now that the new fiscal year is about to begin with no provision for higher taxes, and with no prospect that legislation can be put through to provide for the collection of new taxes before the first of next year, the Administration will seek to increase the amount to be collected in 18 months, between January, 1944, and July, 1945. Thirty billion in that period, it is figured, would be necessary to make up for the absence of additional taxation for the last six months of this year.

Whether Congress actually will pass legislation to increase taxes by this amount is very much doubted here. The chief purpose of asking for such large new taxes, according to the President, is to close up "inflationary gap"—to drain off a large part of the extra 42 billion dollars which the people of this country are expected to earn this year.

But, although Congressmen realize that the sound way to do this would be to levy an excess profits tax on those individuals who are earning more money now than they were before the war, there is little chance that they would risk the loss of political prestige which this solution would involve.

To a large extent, this surplus income is being earned by war workers who are members of labor unions and whose wages have been increased with the sanction of the Administration. If the Administration suddenly tries to force these men to turn over a large proportion of their extra earnings to the treasury widespread labor troubles would be apt to follow.

Senator Josh Lee has suggested that an excess income tax, similar to the excess profits tax applied to corporations, be levied on all individual income in excess of the amount earned in 1940 or 1941, thus putting the burden of increased taxation on those who have profited because of the war and easing the burden for those whose income has decreased or remained the same since the war began. This would not only include labor, but also business officials who have increased their earnings and government employees who are earning more than they ever did before. But it is more likely that Congress will favor various forms of hidden taxes such as increased taxes on sales by manufacturers, unless public pressure is sufficient to force an excess earnings tax. Noting the success of public pressure in putting through the pay-as-you-go plan, some officials here are hopeful that the public will be sufficiently aroused to use similar tactics to force the Lee plan.

All officials here realize that the dangers of inflation of prices getting entirely out of hand are greater now than they have been since the war started. The fear of food shortages this year, the increased activities of black markets, the demands of labor for still higher wages and difficulties of enforcing OPA regulations are creating a crisis. So far, higher taxes and compulsory savings are the chief solutions offered.

Yes, in a way. The modern magic of electric power. The magic that makes it possible for a girl's slim fingers to lift mountains of metal, or set great wheels in motion — just by pressing a button or pulling a lever.

Women are able to work beside men on America's roaring production lines because elec-

V-MAIL PICTURES FOR DADS

Photographs of children under one year of age of soldiers serving overseas or children born after the father has departed for overseas may be sent by V-mail under certain conditions, the War Department has announced. The regulation form must not be altered in any manner and the photograph is limited in size to not more than one-third of the correspondence space on the V-mail form. The photograph must appear on the upper left portion of the correspondence space. It may include the mother or some other person holding the child.

DON'T TRAVEL UNNECESSARILY

To relieve crowded trains and buses, the public is asked not to make unnecessary trips. ODT has defined trips for the following purposes as non-essential—(1) To other cities to visit friends, (2) Home for the week-end, (3) sightseeing, (4) To the theatre, races, or other places of amusement, (5) Any social or travel for pleasure, (6) Travel merely for the sake of going somewhere.

VICTORY TAX COLLECTIONS

The victory tax, which to date has been withheld from wages and salaries, above exemptions, at the rate of 5 percent, will be included in the 20 percent withholding plan provided for in the current tax payment act, on or after July 1. Total victory tax collections as of June 5 were $642,382,523.20.

STICKER FOR RATION-FREE SHOES

Shoe dealers must put an official OPA sticker on shoes that are to be sold ration-free because of damage by fire, water, steam, or other accidental cause, the OPA has announced. The purpose of the sticker is to protect the customer against black markets in shoes.

FROZEN FOODS PRICED

Consumer ceiling prices for frozen snap beans, corn, peas, and spinach of the 1943 pack will be about the same as current maximum prices for the 1942 pack, but frozen strawberries and asparagus will be increased, OPA said recently. For asparagus, the increase will be about one cent a pound, and, for strawberries, between three and four cents a pound.

TAX WORKERS WILL BE NEEDED

Between 10,000 and 15,000 new employees will have to be added to the Bureau of Internal Revenue as a result of the new system for the pay-as-you-go income tax which law goes into effect July 1. Most of these employees will be placed in the various field offices and the majority of them will be women.

APPLY FOR FUEL NOW

Applesauce, blueberries, figs, beets, carrots, pumpkins, and squash will be available to civilians in cans as a result of a curtailment in government requirements. Under a previous order canners were permitted to pack these foods in cans only for government needs.

CANNED GOODS FOR CIVILIANS

Occupants of oil heated homes should apply now to their ration boards for next year's fuel oil allowances to assure adequate supplies before winter, declares OPA. About one-third of the coupons in each consumer's ration sheet will be valid on July 1 to enable householders to get deliveries in advance of cold weather.

SED CAR GAS RATION

The purchaser of a used car may qualify for a gasoline ration to operate it, even though he is unable to get a tire inspection record from the previous owner, if he can satisfy the local Board that (1) No tire inspection record ever was issued for the vehicle, or (2) The buyer had been unable to get the record from the previous owner after diligent attempt.

STABILIZING PRICE OF VEGETABLES

A program has been started that will maintain fair and equitable returns for the canning industry, at the same time preventing increases in consumer prices of green peas, snap beans, sweet corn, canned tomatoes and other primary tomato products. It includes: (1) No increases in the ceiling prices of canners, (2) The Commodity Credit Corporation will absorb part of the processing cost, caused by approved increased wages, to permit processors to obtain net returns from 1943 operations in line with the average net return during representative pre-war years, for minor vegetables, increase will be reflected in higher ceiling prices.

WAR EXPENDITURES UP 1 PER CENT

War expenditures by the U. S. during May amounted to $7 billion, 373 million, a one percent increase over April. The daily rate of war expenditures averaged $283,600,00 in May compared with $280,400,000 in April.

STOCKING PRICES CHANGED

Maximum prices on stockings that contain yarn composed of silk twisted with rayon or cotton yarns have been fixed by OPA to allow for varying costs based on the gauge of the hose. Retail prices range from 79 cents for the coarse gauges (39 and lower) to $1.25 for the finer gauges (51 and higher).

STATES POOL ROAD MACHINERY

Thirty-five states are now operating under the WPB program to pool government-owned machinery. Under the plan, requirements for critical materials are greatly reduced by making available any surplus or idle equipment to any section of a state which urgently needs it.

BASIC COURSE FOR C. D. WORKERS TO BE GIVEN FOR LAST TIME

The Basic Course for Civilian Defense workers will be given, unless many new workers are added in the coming year. All those Civilian Defense workers who are entitled to and wish to wear the CD pin must take this course.

Cards have been sent to approximately 100 workers to notify them of the course. This includes air raid wardens, the telephonists who work at the control centers, canteen workers, members of the motor mechanics corps, and those staff members who are active in any of the Protective Services.

On June 29 the lectures will be on organization and duties, given by Arthur Bible and gases, given by C. E. Headington.

The lectures for July 6 will be on bombs, blackouts and shelters. Speakers for these will be announced.

HEALTH SERVICE COMMITTEE MEETS

Montgomery County Group On Alert For Child Care Needs

"All community service agencies in Montgomery County are keeping alert in regard to requests for child care service from mothers in war work, but as yet there does not seem to be a sufficient need to warrant asking for federal funds," said Miss Ada M. Beerstecher, executive secretary of the Community Health and Civic Association, Ardmore, at a meeting of the Health Service committee of that organization last week.

Miss Beerstecher said that all health agencies of the county, meeting in Norristown, recently reported that surveys had been or were being made to determine this need. She said that Abington and Jenkintown Townships, where regular nursery schools have been functioning for some time, were two exceptions. Delaware County is making such a survey under the leadership of Mrs. William A. Jaque, of Swarthmore.

Miss Beerstecher reported that the Visiting Nurse Service of the Ardmore Community Health and Civic Association had sent nurses on 1813 calls for the month of May, 1943, 169 more than for May, 1942. Miss Beerstecher and Miss Marian Campbell, supervisor of nurses, are giving a course in "Community Health to the pre-clinical students at the Bryn Mawr College summer school of nursing this summer.

The National Red Cross continues to send their nurses to the association for a month's introductory course in Public Health Service before sending them into the field.

The association, which conducts a registry for practical nurses, had 749 calls in the period from January through May and made 334 placements, according to Mrs. H. Wilson Moorehouse, registry chairman, who said, "there is a desperate need for more practical nurses."

lay, as a great deal of cataloging and arranging must be done in connection with this endeavor. The first of its kind ever attempted in America.

Also of special importance is the fact that the pictures of the local women in the various services are being secured under the direction of Mrs. Freda Schrepper, 315 Grayling Ave. The date regarding the women who have left here to serve their country is not as complete as that which pertains to the men, and Mrs. Schrepper asks that the relatives of such women shall please telephone her promptly at Narberth 2372.

The evening activities will be of a gala order. They will include a demonstration of incendiary bombs, community singing and an appropriate movie show. The complete program, giving starting time of all the contests and events, together with names of committees, judges, etc., will be printed in next week's "Our Town."

The temporary office of the committee, Haverford and Forrest Ave., is open this week-end from 2:30 to 8 P. M., to receive the entries, photographs, etc.

During the first week of school, subscriptions to the school paper were taken and fall sports got underway. . . . Home room presidents, who automatically became members of the student council, were elected on September 16, followed by a drive to sell L. M. athletic tickets for football and soccer.

The first student council meeting was held under the direction of the vice-principal, Mr. V. Pearce. Suggestions for the coming year were taken and also the promotion of the selling of school stickers was made. . . . Mr. Scheetz and Company, magicians, presented the first assembly program on September 23. . . . During the same week cheerleader tryouts were held under the direction of Mr. Royer, who later in the year was called to active service in the Army.

ELECTRICAL DEALERS OFFER 10¢ A POUND FOR WORN-OUT PORTABLE HOME APPLIANCES

"If you can't 'fix 'em up . . . make 'em do' sell 'em to us at ten cents a pound." This is a key-note of an effort, sponsored by The Electrical Association of Philadelphia, to gather in worn-out portable electric appliances. About a hundred electrical appliance dealers in the Philadelphia area have joined the movement and are displaying signs to this effect in their windows. In addition the plan is advertised in all Philadelphia and many neighborhood newspapers.

According to The Electrical Association, a worn-out electric appliance has two possible uses: (1) it provides vitally-needed scrap for the war effort, (2) it may contain parts that the dealer may use in repairing other appliances.

Naturally, no one is urged to turn in an electric appliance that can still be made usable under the "Fix 'em up . . . make 'em do" plan which has resulted in the repairing of nearly 300,000 appliances in the past year in this area. But where a portable electric appliance is worn out and its usefulness, it should not be permitted to lie idle, tying up scrap metal and usable parts. Instead it should be treated like any other potentially valuable raw material . . . sold for scrap. The price of ten cents a pound, offered by any dealer, is of course higher than any they will receive for the scrap metal; but the dealers are finding this another way in which they can help the war effort. The occasional usable part which may be obtained from the old appliance, will of course be put to proper use.

As the advertising explains, not all dealers are in position to accept all types of electric appliances under this plan. But among the dealers some will be found willing to buy any particular type. Those with worn-out appliances on hand who do not know where to turn are invited to phone The Electrical Association of Philadelphia for the name of the nearest buyer. The plan is limited to portable appliances, or those that may be carried in the hand. It is suggested that owners of large appliances such as refrigerators or electric ranges, inquire at their dealers usefulness, it should not be per-
